Violence In The Workplace

What is workplace violence? Workplace violence is any act or threat of physical violence, harassment, intimidation, or other threatening disruptive behavior that occurs at the work site. It ranges from threats and verbal abuse to physical assaults and even homicide. It can affect and involve employees, clients, customers, visitors, and the public. Homicide is currently the fourth-leading cause of fatal occupational injuries in the United States in 2010, 505 were workplace homicides. Homicide is the leading cause of death for women in the workplace. However it manifests itself, workplace violence is a major concern for employers and employees nationwide.

Who is at risk of workplace violence? Nearly 2 million American workers report having been victims of workplace violence each year. Unfortunately many of these cases go unreported. The truth is, workplace violence can strike anywhere, anytime, and no one is immune. Research has identified factors that may increase the risk of violence for some workers at certain worksites. Such factors include exchanging money with the public and working with volatile, unstable people. Working alone or in isolated areas may also impact the likelihood of violence. Additionally, time of day and location of work, such as working late at night or in areas with high crime rates, are also risk factors that should be considered when addressing issues of workplace violence.

How can workplace violence hazards be reduced? In most workplaces where risk factors can be identified, the risk of assault can be prevented or minimized if employers take appropriate precautions. One of the best protection employers can offer their workers is to establish a zero-tolerance policy toward workplace violence. This policy should cover all workers, patients, clients, visitors, contractors, and anyone else who may come in contact with company personnel.

This can be a separate workplace violence prevention program or can be incorporated into an injury and illness prevention program, employee handbook, or manual of standard operating procedures. It is critical to ensure that all workers know the policy and understand that all claims of workplace violence will be investigated and remedied promptly. In addition, the Occupational and Safety Health Administration (OSHA) encourages employers to develop additional methods as necessary to protect employees in high risk industries.

Where can I get information on worker's rights and employers' responsibilities? This information can help you properly prepare to eliminate or reduce the likelihood of violence at your workplace. For other valuable protection information, such as Workers' Rights, Employer Responsibilities and other services OSHA offers, please visit www.osha.gov.

The information cited in this article was taken from the OSHA website. We encourage you to share this valuable information with your employees.

What can SJB Group do for You?

SJB Group, LLC can provide free assistance to certified LADOT DBE firms in the following areas:

SJB Group can assist you by: preparing company business cards, profile sheets, and providing information on recommended target areas for your marketing efforts.

By acting as a liaison between the DBE Contractor and Prime Contractor for project information, and in problems occurring on the jobsite.

By informing of upcoming LADOT lettings, and project information for other agencies throughout the state. SJB can assist you in locating bid tabulation information as well.

By providing assistance and guidance on material takeoffs, bid preparation and estimating, project scheduling, and planning for projects that DBE firms are bidding or plan to bid in the near future.

By helping with office computer operations to include trouble-shooting problems, Internet access and software installation, and basic to technical computer training.

By assisting in financial areas such as loan and bond package preparations, company financial statements, business plan preparation, and SBA 8(a) and Hub-Zone certification packages.
